WEDNESDAY, NOMEMBER 10, 1880.

We infer from the above, that the main object of the said "embryo" association, and particularly of its Honorary Secretary (pro test) is to procure Hindu labor. Whatever may be the object of that organization, we should like to know if any of that organization, we should like to know if any planters have taken, or were invited to take any steps in the matter before the elaborate prospectus, with names of officers proposed, was published. If those who attended the initial "meeting" will allow their names to be made known, we can then say whether planters were in it, or no

Oun friend of the Saturday Press takes our correspondent to task for his letter which we published last week concerning the pro tem secresens of Crown Lands, vice the Hon J E Bush and tary of the proposed Planters' Association. We are ourselves unacquainted with Capt. Nicholson, but have heard him pleasantly spoken of, and certainly have never heard of anything against him as a gentleman. We have heard that he hopes to invest in planting upon Kauai, but that he has not invest in planting upon Kauai, but that he has not already done so. This, however, is utterly immaterial. Any gentleman, however irreproachable his antecedents or intentions, may sometimes commit errors. We can not help thinking, as we intimated last week, that the steps taken by Capt. Nicholson, and the qualified acceptance of office by Messrs. Green and Walker, were all premature and unwise. And although we should sincerely regret to saying anything to hurt the feelings of Capt. Nicholson, or of Messrs. Green, Walker or Carter, we still are of the opinion, that the proposed association will not be a planters' association.

We shall leave our "Lanter" correspondent to reply to the lecture on manuers and fair play, which our contemporary of the Press has read him.

The undersigned having been duly appointed by the Minister of the Interior as Commissioners to ascertain and determine upon the compensation to be made to the owner or owners, person or persons interested, for the taking or injuriously affecting such land and water as may be required for the asc of the Honoluli Water Werks, in accordance with an Act "To anthorize the Minister of the Interior to take possession of whatever land and water may be required for the use of the Honoluli Water Works, "approved 18th day of August, 1860, hereby give notice that such claims for compensation, in connection with the lands named in the annural schedule, must be presented to the understanced at the office of the Government Survey within thirty days from date of this issue.

We have never heard Mr. Green's version of this story, but our acquaintance with that gentleman leads us to the confident belief that he accepted his first portfolio for no such purpose and on no such suggestion, but solely from his desire to assist in restoring public confidence in the government, and his view that he could get on well with Mr. Bosh. It was currently reported, and we think with truth, that Mr. Kuaea such purpose and on no such suggestion, but solely from his desire to assist in restoring public confidence in the government, and his view that he could get on well with Mr. Bash. It was currently reported, and we think with truth, that Mr. Kuaea and Mr. Jones were temporary appointments, until the King could get an Attorney-General from the States, and select a permanent Finance Minister. Undoubtedly Mr. Green saw that he could not with proper regard to the national honor and valiare do otherwise than resign the moment he sarned of the extraordinary action which his late colleagues had taken. His resignation made it necessary for those colleagues immediately to resign, and led the King to appoint their successors sooner than he otherwise would have done. But there is reason to believe that new appointments would soon have been made if this denouement had not occurred. The diplomatic finesse attributel of Mr. Spreckels was we believe entirely an after-thought.

Mn. Banchorr of San Francisco has done and is doing valuable work for the historian of the future; besides his vast collection of printed works, newspapers, pamphlets, legal documents, &c., he has a very interesting series of short biographies in manuscript of all the men who have been connected with San Francisco and the West Coast in its early times. Occasionally the gentlemen who have supplied this material give the results to the world, and by last mail we received a short biography of a man, who for fifty-two years was coned more or less with the Hawaiian Islands. This is Mr. H. A. Peirce. The pamphlet gives us some little account of Mr. Peirce's ancestry, it mentions a French origin, but we first get upon firm ground with bluff Capt. William Peirce of London, who was engaged in bringing some of the earliest settlers from England in the ship Lion, Capt. Peirce received the first patent to Plymouth Colony on June 1st, 1621. Members of the family distinguished themselves in colonial history in various ways. Thus a brother of Capt. Peirce fought alongside Miles Standish, the man of "if you want a thing done do it yourself" fame against the celebrated Indian Chief King Philip. Four of the descendants fought during the war of Independence. The father of the subject of the memoir which we have received was Secretary of the Board of War for the State of Massachusetts in 1812-I4, was commissioner from that State to Washington upon national affairs some years later and was clerk of the court from 1817 to 1819. Mr. H. A. Peirce was born in Boston in 1808; his school training does not appear to have been very extensive, for he left at the age of 14. The next two years were spent in his father's office. In 1824, his brother was appointed master of the brig Griffon, bound on a voyage to the N. W. coast of America for furs and young Peirce shipped as a "green hand" for the magnificent sum of $5 a month. During this voyage the youth ma tured, gained experience and information. He visited Honolulu, then a place consisting of "thatch huts, tropical verdure and nude natives." Nearly all the harbors of British Columbia, Alaska and San Francisco—at the time of the visit to the intter place there was only one ship in the harbor-"not even a hat existed where now stands the city of California" and there were only a few inhabitants at the Presidio and the Mission. In 1828 Mr. Peirce left the Griffon and took a clerkship in Honolulu with James Hunnowell. In 1839 he wont into business for himself. From that date till the year 1845 he was engaged in various mercantile.

the quaint phraseology of the counting-houses of the time, the formality of the relations between members of the same family, the quiet satisfaction with which men lived and died upon the same spot of land that they had been born on, the lack of manufacturing enterprise, the bad roads, the small and ill found ships, and you will at once see what a stolid, stupid, comfortable century it was for the average man to live in. Now mankind has to toil early and late to supply its exotic needs. Madam, who in former days was content to go a foot, must now drive around in a buggy : Miss, who wore cotton frocks till she was eighteen or more and was taught that her aim in life was to become the good mother of a buxom family and the ruler of a comfortable home, must needs dream of tarietan dresses and silks at thirteen and of marrying wealth or a title of some sort, a half pay lieutenant or a retired major, no matter what, so long as he can tack some affix before his name or can have a large balance at his banker. Master must earn money quickly and so he rashes off when he is only half educated to pick up what he can, with the result of producing a narrow minded, money grubbing race of youths. His money gained, he spends it in ostentatious show, which the before mentioned Miss, when he marries her, calls too readily lands barself to beginn an Sech. the before mentioned Miss, when he marnes her, only too readily lends herself to keeping up. Such is the standard of the world at the present time and as we have said it is a hard one to live in. Whether a man wish it or no, once he is in with a crowd he must e'en go whither the crowd sways him. The most philosophically inclined must therefore be carried away with the rush, and the On Monday, November 18th, 1880, at the front entrance of Alliciani Hale, at 12 o'clock noon, will be sold at Pablic Anction, the following leases of Government Lands.

In That place of land containing 55 square fathoms thanks on Queen street, and at present leased by Messrs Tables and Sociation will be sold association will not be a planters' association is how they can live their lives with composed association will not be a planters' association. We shall leave our "Lanter" correspondent to reply to the lecture on manners and fair play, which our contemporary of the Press has read him.

The undersigned daving been duly appointed by the Minister of the Interior. Sold describes upon the compensation to be made to the owners or persons interested, for the lateries as Commissioners to ascertain and describes upon the compensation to be made to the owner or persons interested, for the laterier as may be required for the age of the Honoinin Water.

Capt. Nicholson, or of Messrs. Green, Walker or Capter of the opinion, that the opinion, that the planters' association will not be a planters' association will not be a planters' association is how they can live their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the their lives with comfort to themselves. Many of the deal are totally unnecessary; plain farmiture, substantial and comfortable, is very much more studied are totally unnecessary; plain farmiture, and comfortable, is very much more studied by "Britishers." Our dealing and c for pater familias than the cigars and insidious cigarettes of the time. And yet it is for such things that men works now-a-days. Le jeu ne vaut pas la chandelle, man works too hard for what he gets. We consider the present generation as ill rewarded for its pains. By all means let us go back to our beans and bacon, our bucolic simplicity, our walking, our baking, our brewing, our washing, rewing and occupy our families in this manner; let them spend less money and give their heads an opportunity for enjoying their lives which is at present granted to very few. We conclude as we began—Life is very hard.

As article in the North American for October upon the exemption of church property fom taxation asserts that Mormon churches are allowed the same exemptions with those of other religious bodies. A case was decided in the Supreme Court here a year or two ago, by Judge McCully, exempt-ing on the same theory an elder of the Mormon church from personal taxes.

Oun contemporary of the Advertiser is indeed rusty in his latin, for he translates his political

Some of the young men of Honolulu have organized a debating society which meets weekly, ganized a debating society which meets weekly, for discussion. It is an excellent idea to learn to think aloud, and to express one's views clearly. The difficulty with young speakers often is, that they try for too much. It is not original thinking, and last of all is it fine talking that one should strive for; but plain, clear thinking, expressed in a natural manner, with no effort for display or effect. We venture to suggest that they would find many interesting local topics, such for instance, as the comparative advantages to the country of small and large land-holdings; or of the co-operative system applied to sugar manufacture.

We instantly instituted inquiries as to the chapel and the doctrines. After careful investigation and the doctrines. After careful investigation among all the clergy in town, we were unable to get any information. We were at our wits' end. What mysterious sect was going to spring up? Was it some secret form of Eastern worship introduced from the isles of Malaysia, or had a new prophet arisen among us? Finally we met a small boy hanging round the Carter premises. We propounded the question to him, "What chapel is that, sonny?" We waited breathlessly. "That," said the boy; "that is Mr. Carter's new born?" The denizens of Nob Hill worship as formerly.

It is remarkable, considering the large field and demand for real estate loans in this Kingdom, that such an Association was not formed long ago. But the pernicious practice has prevailed, of relying on agents to advance moneys not only for the perchase of land but for buying mills and plantation stock, as well as for money to carry on plantations when fairly started. The agents in their turn have generally relied on the Bank of Bishop & Co. or class on the sugar consigness for money to meet such advances. The whole arrangement is proper, Money about he
